

COLOR & DISCOVER

Garden Birds of North America

40 Species • Color • Learn • Explore

MODULE 01

Cardinal rouge

Northern Cardinal

Cardinalis cardinalis

PRESENTATION

The Northern Cardinal is one of the most recognizable visitors to gardens across eastern North America. The brilliant scarlet male and the warm brown female with red highlights are year-round residents, never migrating south for winter. Uniquely among North American songbirds, the female also sings — often communicating with her mate from the nest.

FAVORITE FEEDER FOODS

- Black-oil sunflower seeds
- Safflower seeds
- White millet
- Wild berries (dogwood, holly)
- Insects during breeding season

HABITAT & RANGE

Found year-round from Maine south to Florida and west to the Great Plains. Also established in Texas, Arizona, and southern Ontario & Quebec. Prefers woodland edges, shrubby gardens, hedgerows, and parks with dense cover.

DID YOU KNOW?

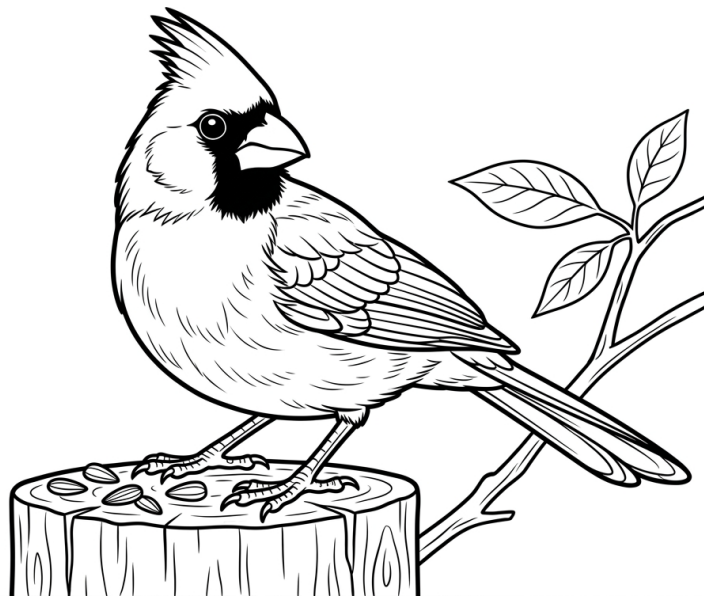

“The female Northern Cardinal is one of the few female songbirds in North America that sings. She often calls to her mate from the nest, sometimes even while incubating eggs.”

COLORING GUIDE

ZONE	RECOMMENDED COLOR
Body (male)	Vivid red — cadmium red
Facial mask	Deep black
Bill	Orange-coral
Body (female)	Warm sandy brown
Wings & crest (f.)	Rusty red highlights
Eye	Dark brown, black ring

COLOR ME!

Northern Cardinal • Cardinalis cardinalis

Use the Color Guide on the facing page for realistic coloring.